JANUARY 2018 DELEGATION TO NICARAGUA

THE JOURNEY BEGINS WHERE THE PAVED ROAD ENDS.

You'll hike to mountain villages to see sustainable farming and water conservation projects. By boat you'll glide through mangrove forests to participate in sea turtle conservation. You'll visit a community nestled between volcanos and see how they produce organic coffee. From city slums to rural cooperatives, you'll be greeted with friendly faces and the open arms of our partners who are working to overcome extreme poverty, environmental degradation and economic exploitation – everyday Nicaraguans working to build peace.

PEOPLE TO PEOPLE, PUEBLO A PUEBLO

While enjoying simple, but pleasant accommodations & good food, you'll be part of a small team meeting with our project partners -- experts in rural development, wildlife conservation and human rights. In translated conversations you'll speak to Nicaraguan families and project beneficiaries who'll invite you into their homes and places of work. You'll ask questions, observe, and learn while helping PeaceWorks think about priorities and future work. Our delegation is the foundation of our solidarity building work-- people to people, pueblo a pueblo.

13 DAYS OF FRIENDSHIP, SOLIDARITY & LEARNING. PEACEWORKS DELEGATION TO NICARAGUA JANUARY 2018 (EXACT DATES TBD)

Managua

Inhijambia Program for Street Kids. Learn about the realities for street children and how Inhijambia restores hope and love to these young people who live at the dangerous margins of Nicaraguan society.

Masaya

Axyacatl Women's Collective Experience how the collective supports local women through literacy training, counseling and self-support groups, legal assistance, community advocacy, and micro-credit and farming projects.

Northern Nicaragua

The Federation for the Development of Rural Farmers (FEDICAMP). Visit reforestation, water conservation, and organic gardening projects in areas threatened by desertification and climate change in rural Nicaragua.

El Porvenir Coffee Co-op

See how forty-three families, living high atop a volcanic mountain range, plant, pick, and process the organic coffee that provides their livelihood which PeaceWorks sells at our events.

Beauty and Culture

A visit to Nicaragua would not be complete without visiting the smoldering Masaya volcano, a breathtaking ecological reserve, the historic old city of Granada, a Pacific ocean beach — and so much more!
